WILSON CONTINUES TO FLAY ENEMIES OF TREATY

Asserts Pact Not Only Will Establish Peace, But Will End Forever the Rule of a Few Men Over the Destinies of Many—Solution of Railway Problems Await Peace

DES MOINES, Iowa, Sept. 6.—The German treaty with its league of nations covenant was explained here tonight by President Wilson as a purely American document extending democracy over the world and shifting foreign relations from a basis of force and war to one of arbitration and peace.

Making his second address of the day the president spoke in the Des Moines Coliseum said to seat 7,500. Every chair was taken and many were standing. Earlier in the day he had spoken at Kansas City, Mo.

An escort of airplanes dropped flowers on the president's special train as it approached the city and he was cheered during an automobile ride thru the crowds that packed the downtown streets. When he entered the Coliseum he was cheered again.

The meeting was opened with an invocation and Mr. Wilson was introduced by J. B. Weaver, president of the Des Moines Chamber of Commerce, who spoke on the "Outstanding figure in the life of the world today."

Mrs. Wilson occupied a seat on the platform.

Describing the world as desperately in need of the settled conditions of peace the president said the United States, the last nation which the world expected to have to wait upon was delaying the coming of that peace.

The treaty, he said, not only would establish peace but it would end forever the rule of a few men over the destinies of the many.

Citing what had happened in Europe with the rise of Bolshevism, Mr. Wilson said the move of radicalism and disorder was spreading.

"Do you honestly think that none of that poison has got into the veins of this free people," he asked. "Men look you calmly in the face in America and tell you that they are for that sort of revolution. So long as the question of what kind of peace the world was to have and what guarantees were behind it remained open, the poison would continue to spread.

"How long shall we be kept waiting for the answer whether the world will trust us or despise us," he continued. "The world stands annoyed because on authority in America hesitates whether it will endorse an American doctrine."

Delay Holds up Progress.

The president said he had not been able to work out the solution of railway problems until he knew when a peace basis would come. The conference of labor and capital in Washington next month he continued also would have its deliberations affected by the answer to their question. Labor "all over the world is waiting," he asserted, "to see whether the United States accepted the treaty's provision for an international labor organization."

The United States, he said, could not participate in the world labor conference to be held in Washington soon under the treaty unless the treaty was accepted by this country. Such a condition would be "inconceivable," he added "and would lead to the greatest mortification."

"The world is waiting," he said, "to see not if we will take part, but whether we will take the lead."

Mr. Wilson said he had been "annoyed to see that the statesmanship of some gentlemen consists in the very interesting proposition of doing nothing at all. I have heard of standing pat before but I never have heard of standpattism going to that length."

The fathers of the republic, Mr. Wilson said, intended to set up a standard to which the world could come for liberty. From all nations he continued, men had come by millions.

Opponents of the league, he asserted, were saying "yes, we made a great promise to the world, but it'll cost too much to redeem it."

If by deliberate choice the United States became a rival and antagonist of her neighbors instead of their friend, he said, then it would reap the same reward as a business man who proceeded on that basis. If the United States tried to get all it could selfishly, he continued, then the world would see to it that we got nothing.

Just as American soldiers restored the morale of the fighting peoples of the allies, said the president, so the United States now could restore the peace morale of the world. It was the people themselves, he said, that would in the end determine what course the United States would take. "They are my bosses," he said. "I have come on this journey not to fight anybody but to report to you."

The peace, he asserted, had been made on "American specifications." Among these specifications, he said, was the establishment of Poland and the other new mid-European nations which now separated Germany from the pathway of the empire she expected to establish in the southeast.

"Are you going to institute a move against France and England and Japan to get Shantung back for China," asked the president.

Discusses Article Ten.

Mr. Wilson discussed Article Ten of the league covenant. Pan-Germanism and similar plans, he said, would be torn up by the roots.

Of the ultimate outcome of the treaty he had no doubt.

"The only thing that can be accomplished," he said, "is delay. The ultimate outcome will be the triumphant acceptance of the treaty and the league."

The Monroe Doctrine provision, he said, had been objected to as vague because it referred to such

STOPS AT ST. JOE

On Board President Wilson's Special Train, Sept. 6.—Several hundred persons met the president's special at St. Joseph, Mo., where the train stopped for three minutes on its way from Kansas City to DesMoines.

The crowd swarmed around the observation end of the president's car and called for a speech but acting on the advice of Dr. Grayson he refrained from making one and exchanged friendly greetings.

After the train left the station it stopped in the railroad yards to take on water and the president shook hands with railroad yardmen.

With their grimy hands they showed some hesitation, but the president smilingly urged them to come forward and he gave each a hearty clasp.

Many children, white and negro were on hand and were lifted up to the rail so the president could shake them by the hand.

The president seemed to enjoy particularly a tiny black pickaninny and its mammy, who, fighting a way thru the the crowd, got within reach of the rail.

"Hello, little one," he said, taking hold of a chubby and very dirty hand, "I am glad to see you."

Another youngster struggled thru and presented Mrs. Wilson with a bunch of sweet peas.

EXPORT FINANCE BILL CONSIDERED IN THE SENATE

Edge Bill Plan to Further Commercial Interests of America

ADOPT NUMBER OF AMENDMENTS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—Necessity for the stabilization of foreign exchange and the extension of credits abroad as a means of furthering American commercial interests was emphasized in the senate today when the export finance bill introduced by Senator Edge, Republican, New Jersey, was taken up and a number of amendments adopted.

The bill prepared by the federal reserve board and approved by Secretary Glass provides for the formation of banking corporations and for their financing so as to enable them to do business abroad.

The senate went on record as opposing foreign interests participating in the control of the corporations. By unanimous vote it adopted an amendment by Senator Smoot requiring all members of the board of directors instead of a majority as proposed, be American citizens. The senate also amended the bill so as to require the corporations to engage entirely in foreign banking and other financial operations instead of "principally" as originally provided.

Senator McCormick, Republican, Illinois, suggested that instead Americans holding the "controlling interest" in the corporations they should be required to hold complete control but Senators Smoot and Edge termed this as impracticable.

The senate adopted amendments by Senator Gronna prohibiting corporations formed under the act from engaging in commerce or trade or interfering in the freedom of corporation in the sale of commodities. Another amendment by him providing that no corporation formed under the bill should invest in any one corporation an amount exceeding ten per cent of its capital and surplus except in a corporation engaged in the banking business was accepted.

AMERICANS MUST SIGN RELEASE

Mexico Attempts to Relieve Itself of Responsibility

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—Apparently convinced that the United States is in earnest in demanding proper treatment of Americans in Mexico the Carranza government has adopted a novel expedient in an attempt to relieve itself of responsibility. Americans going to the Tampico region hereafter will be compelled to sign a formal release of the Mexican government's responsibility for what may happen to them. If they refuse Mexican officials will refuse to vise their passports.

The condition raises a peculiar situation for under international law a government may refuse travel permission to foreigners into a region where it may not be prepared to guarantee their safety.

Americans going to the Tampico oil region are being asked to make oath to such an affidavit as follows: "The undersigned, under oath, deposes and says that he has been warned that the Tampico oil region is a dangerous district on account of the activities of bandits operating in said region; that in case some accident might happen to him, he hereby formally renounces the right that he or his heirs might have to present a claim to the Mexican government, either directly or thru any other channel."

The affidavit is not only required of workmen who are American citizens but also of American citizens in the United States holding passports from the state department authorizing them to visit in the Tampico region.

Details of three robberies in a week in the Tampico region have been received at the offices of the oil companies. The robbers secured $59,060 Mexican gold, American companies being the victims and the robberies all took place in the territory where no one but the Carranza troops are permitted to carry arms.

SMUGGLERS BUSY ALONG BORDER

Millions of Dollars Worth of Munitions Smuggled Across

NEW YORK, Sept. .—Between $17,000,000 and $20,000,000 worth of goods are smuggled annually across the Mexican border more than one fourth of which are arms and ammunition, according to a statement issued today by the National Association for the Protection of American Rights in Mexico, quoting Dr. P. B. Altendorf, member of the United States military intelligence department as authority. Responsibility for the deviltries "of Villa and other bandits" was placed by Aldendorf at the door of American manufacturers of arms and ammunition, "who work hand in hand with the smugglers."

Incidentally he declared that a renegade American was responsible for the attack of American troops at Carrizal in June, 1916, when two American officers and thirteen men were killed and twenty three wounded. Dr. Altendorf said that the Mexicans who made the attack were short of ammunition but obtained supplies thru the renegade who he claimed smuggled $165,000 worth across the border prior to the attack.

"Villa smuggles over sixty per cent of his ammunitions," Dr. Altendorf said, "if that part of his supplies were cut off he would be forced out of business."

The renegade American mentioned by Dr. Altendorf was said by him to be an agent of Mexican Consul Garza at Brownsville, Texas, and also to be a confidential envoy of Carranza while at one time he acted for von Eckhardt the German ambassador to Mexico.

Dr. Altendorf said that one dodge resorted to by the smugglers was to conceal ammunition in water melons to get it past customs officials.

As an evidence that at present Villa is rather hard pressed, Dr. Altendorf declared that in March the bandit's wife pawned her jewelery in San Antonio for $4,800 and used the money to pick up a bargain in ammunition.

Dr. Altendorf said that one third or more of the total amount represents goods smuggled from Mexico into the United States and that this includes great quantities of opium

RECEIVES REPORT OF DISCUSSION OF IRISH QUESTION

Wilson Declines to Use Influence to Get Hearing at Peace Conference

SENATE DEBATES PEACE TREATY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6. — While private negotiations proceeded today between senators favoring strong or "mild" reservations to the peace treaty, the foreign relations committee received a report of a spirited discussion of the Irish question at Paris last June between President Wilson and Frank P. Walsh and former Governor Dunne of Illinois, who sought to secure a hearing before the peace conference for the Irish Nationalists.

The report was transmitted by the Irish national bureau. It said Mr. Wilson declined to use his influence to get a hearing for the Irish representatives declaring that Messrs. Walsh and Dunne by speeches in Ireland had made it impossible.

Treaties Impeded Efforts.

Treaties in existence the president was represented as having declared impeded his efforts to procure self-determination for subject peoples.

No meeting of the committee was held today the memorandum being submitted informally and there was little discussion of the treaty in the senate, Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, making the only address.

He called attention to the statement of the president in his St. Louis speech that Japan's secret treaties with the allies were made to induce her to enter the war. The Nebraska senator said the treaties were made two years later.

The group of Republicans advocating "mild" reservations conferred and were said to have agreed to oppose the committee reservations, particularly that relating to article ten of the league of nations covenant.

Brings Sharp Exchanges.

The Irish memorandum teemed with sharp exchanges regarding the attitude of the president and others of the American peace commission on the Irish question.

Mr. Walsh it is recited, suggested that the president visit Ireland and the president was said to have replied:

"Now, Walsh, if it is your intention to go back to America and try to put me in bad, I am going to say when I go back that we were well on the way of getting Mr. de Valera and his associates over here; we were well on the way when you made it so difficult by your speeches in Ireland that we could not do it; that it was you gentlemen who kicked over the apple cart."

Mr. Walsh, in reply, referred to discussions in the British parliament of the efforts to secure safe conducts to Paris for Eamonn de Valera and other Irish Nationalists and the president was reported as responding:

"Now, Walsh, I am not going to discuss anything that was said in the British house of commons, or house of lords, except to say this: that I was making an effort and Colonel House was making an effort, and that we thought we were well on the way of getting de Valera and his associates over here, but the speeches of you gentlemen gave such offense

GOVERNOR LOWDEN ISSUES OFFICIAL PROCLAMATION

CHICAGO, Sept. 6.—Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois today proclaimed Wednesday, Sept. 17—the one hundred and thirtieth anniversary of the adoption of the federal constitution as "Constitution day." After saying that under the constitution the nation had grown to become "the foremost power in all the earth the proclamation continued:

"But now a new school of political thought has arisen. It would substitute the unbridled will of the majority for the secret guarantees to the individual under our constitution of life liberty and property. That new school bears different name. In Russia it is called Bolshevik government, in America it is sometimes called the Industrial Workers of the World, sometimes the Socialist party and at other times the one big union. It would impose the same tyranny upon the individual as did the military despots of Europe who have been dethroned. If successful it would blot out Washington's great work and make Lincoln's life of no avail. It would write above every soldier's grave from Lexington to Argonne forest the words—'He died in vain.'

"Therefore, I Frank O. Lowden, governor Illinois, hereby proclaim Wednesday, September seventeenth, in the year of Our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and nineteen as Constitution day to be observed by all the people of this state. I suggest that on the Sabbath of September 14 in all the churches of Illinois, prayers of gratitude may be offered and sentiments of supplication uttered for the priceless gift bequeathed to us by the authors of the constitution and founders of this republic. I request that on Wednesday, Sept. 17th there be a general display of the American flag, that appropriate exercises for a study of the constitution be held in all the schools; but wherever possible public meetings be held for a discussion of its meaning that on that day our people resolve to cherish and preserve this, our noblest heritage of all, against all its foes under whatever name they shall come."

MINERS WILL CALL OFF LOGAN COUNTY INVASION

U. M. W. Head Tells West Virginia Executive That 1,500 Miners Encamped at Danville Will Return to Their Homes Today —Springfield Miners March to Auburn.

BULLETIN

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Sept. 6.—C. F. Keeney, president of the United Mine Workers of America, of District No. 17, in a telephone conversation with Governor Cornwell tonight stated that the 1,500 miners encamped at Danville would call off the invasion of Logan county and would return to their homes tomorrow. Keeney left Charleston at noon in an automobile in an effort to deter the miners from proceeding further after a conference with Governor Cornwell.

Following this information from President Keeney, Governor Cornwell said he would not ask that federal troops be called out.

If the miners decide to proceed further, it is probable federal troops will be called out. It was learned tonight that another party of men has been proceeding into Logan county by way of Cabin Creek and are said to be about twelve miles southeast of Madison in Boone county. Efforts are being made by mine workers officials to prevent the marchers from proceeding further.

The original force was estimated at 500 men, but recruits were enlisted along the route and tonight President Keeney estimated the army to be of an approximate strength of 1,500 men.

Springfield Men Make Brief Stop in Auburn.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 6.—About fifty insurgent miners who started from Springfield on a march early this morning had reach Auburn about 18 miles south of this city, late tonight.

The men passed thru Chatham, early this afternoon. They reached Auburn about 7 o'clock and proceeded to hold a meeting in the public square at which several of their leaders spoke.

The band of marchers asked to sleep in Miners' Hall tonight but permission was denied them, according to reports. They left Auburn about 9 o'clock and it is believed they will encamp beside the road until morning, when they will resume their march.

Ready to Call Troops.

Charleston, W. Va., Sept. 6.—Agmented from five hundred to twelve hundred men the body of miners all said to be armed, which left Oak Grove today on a march into Logan county to force unionization of the Guyan coal field, passed thru Peytonia, Boone county, and continued on toward Madison, with the prospect of reaching that place tonight.

This information was received this afternoon by United States Marshal William Osborne. Frank Keeney, president and other officials of the mine workers organization, were expected to overtake the crowd at Madison and urge them to turn back.

Governor Cornwell is ready to telegraph Secretary Baker for federal troops upon notice that the situation has become more alarming.

The governor declared himself determined that the armed men should not go into Logan county, and if they insisted upon going he would meet them with United States troops.

Developments in the strike situation in the Kanawha field today followed a meeting of miners at Oak Grove last night where Governor Cornwell addressed the men and urged them to return home.

Acting on their promise to Governor Cornwell to do all within their power to relieve the serious situation, Frank Keeney, secretary of District No. 17 of the United Mine Workers of America, and Fred Mooney, secretary, left Charleston today to head off the marchers. The orders were to be made, it was understood, on penalty of forfeiture of their union charters if they failed to heed them.

It was reported by persons coming into Charleston on the Kanawha and Michigan train from Gauley Bridge, that all the mines on that line above Cedar Grove were idle.

Information was obtained here that the operators in the Guyan field had unloaded a carload of machine guns and ammunition in Logan yesterday for distribution in Logan county.

Reach Boone County.

Huntington, W. Va., Sept. 6.—At 6:30 o'clock the advance guard of Kanawha coal miners marching on the Guyan valley operations had reached Danville, Boone county, a miles and a half

Actors' Strike Ends In Victory For Everyone

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—New York's "Great White Way" blazed forth tonight after the partial eclipse caused by the actors' strike. The problem of being all dressed up and no where to go was solved for thousands of theatergoers by the re-opening of five houses which had been forced to close during the thirty day war between the actors and managers which ended today.

The other theaters were unable to arrange for a re-opening tonight but all announced that performances would be resumed next week.

According to the claims of the various parties to the war it ended in victory for everyone. The Actors' Equity association and Chorus Equity association were triumphant because they gained recognition. The managers pointed with pride that provision for an "open shop" was included in the treaty of peace and the Actors' Fidelity league, which supported the managers proclaimed its satisfaction that it was also recognized.

Officials of the Actors' Equity association which waged the thirty day strike and officials of the Producing Managers' Protective association which fought it, joined tonight in an announcement of the "salient points," in

GREAT POSSIBILITIES

There are said to be 350,000 members of the American Legion, the organization of American soldiers of the world war. A campaign is to be put on from Sept. 15 to Sept. 20 to make this number 1,000,000 and the goal will probably be reached. Certainly the men who have taken the lead in this movement are planning an organiaztion which, if its acts as a unit, can have a very distinct effect on the life of America. Such an organization can certainly make a great contribution to loyalty. And perhaps coming days will demand just as much in this line as has been true in the past.

THE VETERANS ARE PASSING.

The national encampment of the G. A. R. will open at Columbus, Ohio, this year. It is an undeniable fact that the attendance at these gatherings diminishes each year and the day is not very far in the future when even the smaller cities of the country will be large enough to entertain the veterans. A greater number pass away each year and one needs only to think in a local way of the boys of '61 who are now in failing health to remember the sad fact that the days of the G. A. R. as an organization are numbered.

But these veterans who wore the blue can have with them always the comforting assurance that even when they pass on to the final reward which is certainly awaiting them, that the work of their hands, the ideals for which they sacrificed, will live on as an eternal monument to them thru ages yet to come.

THE FOUR CENT OFFER.

A freight car went thru Jacksonville the other day with a placard on it, "Woodrow Wilson, our 4c president." The sentence indicates that Mr. Wilson is not as popular with the railroad men as he was a few years ago. So long as he met every demand made upon him the president was accounted as the particular idol and friend of the railroad workers. But the 4c an hour offer spoiled this pleasant relationship.

Many of the workers were getting such handsome salaries that the 4c didn't seem worth considering. But the important thing about the rejection of the offer has been the announcement that the shopmen are not in favor of striking and believe that six months' time should be given the government to see what can be accomplished in the reduction of living costs.

The railroad men by this action have shown sound judgment and that they have regard for both public opinion and public welfare.

THIS IS ONE WAY

Striking dyers and cleaners in Chicago have returned to work after losing their fight and it was proven that the trouble originated from the Bolsheviki agitators. Now in order to eliminate similar trouble the firms have agreed to employ only American workers. This will be an effective measure for weeding out the Bolsheviki movement if it is definitely pursued.

When the foreigner of good habits and good spirit finds out that he is going to forfeit his position because of some wild-eyed foreign agitator there will be a big clean-up and eventually the agitators will be banished to the countries from which they sprang.

LAFEYETTE DAY.

LaFayette day, September 6, was not observed in as country wide a way this year as was true in 1918. This does not mean that there is any less reverence or affection for the memory of LaFayette or less feeling of obligation to France. It does mean that the stress of the war period is gone and that today there is not as much in every day events of popular appeal to patriotic sentiment as there was a year ago.

GIVING THE NEEDED THINGS

Education in public schools, according to a statement made by Supt. Perrin recently, has been strongly affected by war time events. There have been various conferences of educators and much has been written on the subject, with the result that the earlier school years are intended to give impetus to those things that a child really needs.

Just about as much attention will be paid to the physical side of the child as to the mental. Since the selective service act drew attention to the large percentage of young men that were not physically qualified for army service, and assuming that the same percentage of girls do not measure up to normal physical requirements, there is certainly a record that clearly points to the need for physical education in the schools.

Certainly the educators are taking up a practical work when they determine to give the children "those things that are needed."

A SUNDAY MORNING THEME

It is more and more noticeable that secular papers frequently comment on matters of a kind that formerly appeared only in the regular press.

The following from the Ohio State Journal on "The Importance of Reverence" is an instance in point and affords a very appropriate theme:

"Reverence is a powerful promoter of good character. An irreverent person is full of low thoughts. If we were an employer we wouldn't hire an irreverent man. One who puts a low estimate on the sanctities of life cannot be depended upon for any good service. So, good, conscientious parent, count it a misfortune if your son or daughter talks lightly or jokingly of sacred things. The habit will follow him in all his future life, and, while it may not make a burglar or murderer out of him, it may make a loafer and disgusting person.

"Why do we refer to this? Because irreverence is a great blight to our country. If we should have more reverence among the citizenship we should have better society, better business, better politics, better education and better religion. As to the latter, religion, don't be surprised, for there is much irreverence in the church, and as to education, irreverence is a black blotch there. It is far better for one to express his reverence for the good by his attitude than by his voice. Every virtue is improved by reverence.

ITS A BIG, DIFFICULT BUSINESS.

A tractor demonstration announced only two days in advance drew a crowd of several hundred spectators Friday. That fact indicated the interest there is in the tractor as an adjunct of farming operations. In this locality farmers were not quick to show their interest in tractors but a decided change has come about and now there are scores of men considering purchases. All they want is to be convinced that the tractor will mean saving to them in their farming operations.

The conditions indicate something of the change that is going on in farming affairs, for as never before farming is a business which demands the best thought and attention of the farmer. This is because with increasing land values and increasing costs of operation he must continue to show figures on the right side of the ledger.

Rippling Rhyms
By Walt Mason

THE BOARDERS

"What ho," exclaim the boarders, "bring forth the measly lot of profiteers and hoarders, and let them all be shot." The boarders' grub is scanty, it's slim and punk indeed, in hostelry or shanty, wherever they may feed. Their eyes became a river when they look round and see a sickly slice of liver, a string bean and a pea. The boarders' cheeks are sallow, their eyes are full of woe, their waistlines show no tallow, they totter as they go. Their lean ribs clank together and ever, as they reel, they wonder, wonder whether, they'll ever have a meal. "Bring forth," exclaim the boarders, bent up with stomach ache, "the profiteers and hoarders, and burn them at the stake." The landloard says he's giving the utmost for the cash; and boarders still are living on air and onion hash. In vain the boarders forage for fodder they can eat; and there are tons in storage of eggs and pies and meat. The nation's bins are busting with everything we need; and it is most disgusting that men for grub must plead, and pay unholy prices for everything they get; oh, let us in three trices, make some blamed lummix sweat. "Produce," exclaim the boarders, bowed down by pain and toil, "the profiteers and hoarders, and let them boil in oil."

A MILLION DOLLAR INDUSTRY

The rabbit did so much to win the war. We did not notice its contribution so much in this country, but in England and France the rabbit hutches were to be found in nearly every dooryard. The meat saved the situation, for it provided practically all the meat to which the majority of people in these countries had access.

But the rabbit industry is by no means a novelty in America. Recent statistics compiled by the secretary of the national breeders' association show that more than 900,000 persons are breeding rabbits in America today, representing an investment of 60 million dollars in stock and equipment.

The domesticated rabbit is destined to become one of our most important meat and fur bearing animals. It increases its own weight faster than any animal known to man, and the pelts are durable enough to be suitable for many uses.

The domesticated rabbit is in a class of its own when it comes to quality and flavor of the meat. The meat is all white, like the breast of a chicken, as contrasted to the wild cottontail, whose meat is all dark. The flavor is excellent, being free from that rank, strong flavor found in wild rabbit.

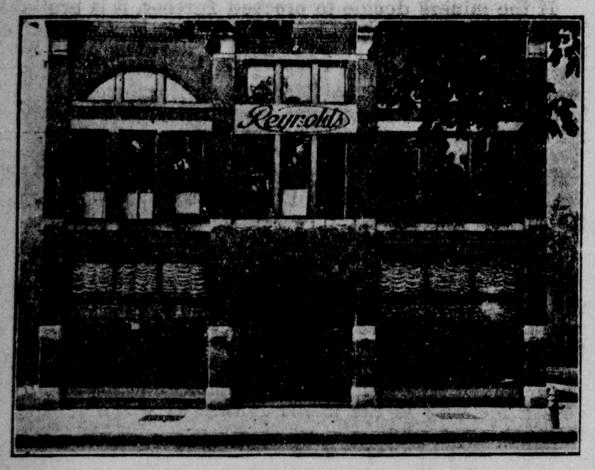

The does are bred when 7 months old and have litters composed of from five to thirteen young. Five or six, never more than seven, are left with the mother for two months, are then weaned, and the mother doe bred again. Her second litter comes in 30 days. In this way it is possible to produce as many as 132 rabbits from one breeding pair within 12 months.

Rabbits are fed in much the same manner as horses. In the morning they are given whole oats, about a handful to a rabbit, and at noon a small handful of clover or alfalfa hay. That is all the feeding necessary for a mature specimen, except the breeding does. It is wise to give them all they will eat, and when with litter to give them a noon feeding of bread and milk.

During the summer greens can be used for one of the feedings, provided it does not appear to have any injurious effect upon the stock. Young rabbits must not have access to it.

The cost of production depends on local conditions, but when rapid gains are made it is slight, even where it is necessary to buy all the feed given. A New Zealand Red rabbit will dress a pound for every month old up to six months. The does weigh 10 pounds at maturity and the bucks 9.

The pelts readily bring $1 a pound on the market, but they can be tanned most profitably at home and made into furs there. The New Zealand is a good imitation of Red Fox and makes a wonderful set of furs. By using tanning preparations it is possible to tan a hide in four days, with about ten minutes' work daily.

Sapphire
The September Birthstone

Did you know that the Sapphire is in very high favor at the moment? It would be difficult to say just why this is so, but nevertheless it is the fact.

We are making a very exclusive showing of the Oriental dark blue stones and the Montana light blues, both gems of the purest character, and invite your inspection.

According to Oriental superstition the Sapphire is "invaluable to those who wish to win the favor of princes," but surely in this day when kings, emperors and princes have gone out of fashion, one would still wish this brilliant gem as an article of personal adornment or to use as a gift on occasion.

The Sapphire can be had in various articles of dainty jewelry, in rings and pins, independent or in combination with small diamonds.

Why?

Its Best To Buy Good Fabrics

—Because of high labor costs.

—You readily will realize that it costs in labor just as much to make a suit or overcoat out of poor fabric as it does from the better grades.

—In these days of high labor costs it is almost criminal to have cheap material worked up.

—It is well known that the cheaper fabrics will not stand up — will not wear, nor look well while wearing, no matter how thoroughly tailored.

—First quality woolens always stand up; always reflect the labor and time necessary to build good garments; look infinitely better, and wear longer—Hence —More than ever now is it true economy to see that only genuine high grade woolens are used for your fall suit and overcoat.

that the whole thing had to be abandoned."

Did Not Discuss Question.

The president, the memorandum declared, he had not discussed with Lloyd George the question of aiding the de Valera mission and Mr. Walsh asked the president to give his aid. The president, according to the document, replied:

"There is no use discussing that. I don't know what the British government would say and I have said all I can say.

"I want you gentlemen to understand that our position is this: that we are dealing officially with these governments. You would not want us to make representations or engage in an effort that might involve the sending of troops into Europe and I know that our people would not want that. What I am saying to you is that we cannot do anything of an official nature, but I want to say to you that I have the deepest sympathy for Ireland and her cause."

Regarding the president's efforts to translate his announced principle of self-determination of peoples into the peace treaty, Mr. Walsh, according to the memorandum quoted from the president's addresses saying millions of people relied on them. In reply the president said, the statement continues:

"You have touched on the great metaphysical tragedy of today. My words have raised hope in the hearts of millions of people. It is my wish that they have that; but could you imagine that you could revolutionize the world at once, could you imagine that these people could come into that at once?"

Mr. Walsh replied:

"I can imagine them, if anyone denied it, struggling to come into it at once, if it were denied in the place where they expected they were to have come and have it settled definitely once and for all."

"When I gave utterance to those words," was the president's reported reply, "I said them without the knowledge that nationalities existed which are coming to us day after day Of course, Ireland's case is the outstanding case of a small nationality. You do not know and cannot appreciate the anxieties that I have experienced as the result of the many millions of people having their hopes raised by what I have said. For instance, time after time I raised a question here in accordance with these principles, and I am met with the statement that Great Britain or France or some other country has entered into a solemn treaty obligation. I tell them that it was not in accord with justice and humanity and then they tell me that the breaking of treaties is what has brought on the greater part of wars. No one knows the feelings that are inside of me while I am discussing these things. It distresses me, but I believe as you gentlemen do in Divine Providence and I am in His hands and I don't care what happens to me individually. I believe the things and I know the countless millions of people believe them."

Expected to Resume March.

Marissa, Ill., Sept. 6.—Only fifteen of the striking miners who were marching thru the southern part of the state were here this morning, but 235, who had gone to Belleville to get a change of clothing, were expected to return today and resume the march.

The marchers were stopped by deputy sheriffs as they attempted to enter Perry county yesterday and they retreated back to this city. It was announced that an injunction is being sought at Pinckneyville restraining the authorities from interfering with the marchers. It was also announced that as soon as the restraining order was granted that the march would be continued thru both Randolph and Perry counties.

the agreements which terminated the struggle.

The new contract with the equity will run for five years and all existing agreements between managers and actors are to remain in effect. All actors whose places were not filled during the strike will be reinstated and those whose places were filled during the strike will receive parts in new plays, a cash settlement or may arbitrate the question of adjustment.

All lawsuits resulting from the strike, including the $500,000 in suits brought against leading members of the equity by Shuberts are to be withdrawn. There will be an "open shop," no "blacklist" and recognition of the equity.

There will be three forms of contracts with actors—a "standard" contract for equity members, an actors' Fidelity league contracts for members of that organization and an "individual contract" for actors not affiliated with either organization. The Chorus Equity association during the strike will be recognized and a new set of working rules drawn up for members of the chorus with a minimum wage scale.

WILSON CONTINUES TO FLAY ENEMIES OF PEACE TREATY

regional understandings as the Monroe Doctrine.

"This language was written," he said, "in perfect innocence, and was intended to give right of way to the Monroe Doctrine in the western hemisphere."

The language was put in, he continued, because the other delegates thought it wise to make a specific reference to a policy of one country without leaving the way open for other nations to develop similar policies in their own localities.

"Yet we are told this is a covenant of war," he continued. "It is the most drastic covenant of peace ever conceived."

The processes of discussion are the processes of peace.

Needs Settled Conditions

"The world is desperately in need of the settled conditions of peace," said the president, "and it cannot wait much longer. It is waiting upon us, that is the burdensome thought upon my heart tonight

"The world is not at peace. I suppose that it is difficult for one who has not had some touch of the hot passion of the other side of the sea to realize how all the passions that have been slumbering for ages have been released by the tragedy of this war.

"And now all of this is released, and men glare at one another and say 'now we are free and what shall we do with our freedom.'

"What happened in Russia was not an accidental thing. The people were maddened with the suppression of czarism. When at last the chance came to throw off those chains they threw them off at first with hearts full of hope and then they found out that they had been again deceived. There was an assembly chosen to chose a constitution for them and it was suppressed and dispersed, and a little group of men just as selfish and ruthless and pitiless as the ages of the czar assumed control and exercised their power by terror. And in other parts of Europe the poison spread. The poison of disorder of revolt of chaos. And do you honestly think that none of that poison has got in the veins of this free people. Do you not know that the world is all now one single whispering gallery. These antennae of the wireless telegraph are the symbols of our age.

"All the impulses of mankind are thrown out upon the air and reach to the ends of the earth and quietly, upon steamships, silently under the cover of the postal service with the tongue of the wireless and the telegraph all the suggestions of disorder are spread thru the world. And money coming from nobody knows where is deposited by the millions in capitals like Stockholm to be used for the propaganda of disorder and content and men look you calmly in the face in America and say they are for that sort of revolution when that sort of revolution means government by terror and force, not government by vote.

"It is the negation of everything that is American but is spreading and so long as the world is kept waiting for the answer to the question of the kind of peace we are going to have and what kind of guarantees are behind that peace, the poison will spread until maybe that even this beloved land of ours will be distracted and distorted by it.

"That is what is concerning me. I know the splendid steadiness of the American people, but my fellow citizens the whole world needs that steadiness, and the American people are the make weight in the fortunes of mankind. How long shall we be kept waiting for the answer whether the world may trust us or despise us.? They have looked to us for leadership. That great volume that contains the treaty of peace is drawn along the specifications laid down by the American government and now the world stands amazed because the authority in America hesitates whether it will endorse an American document or not.

JACKSONVILLE SCHOOLS AWARDED PENNANTS

Awards Made as Result of High Standing of the Local Schools in the National Tournament in "Health Knighthood."

Seven Illinois schools, all of them located in Jacksonville, have been awarded pennants in the national tournament in "Health Knighthood" which was conducted thruout the United States last spring under the joint auspices of the National and State Tuberculosis Associations and the Junior Red Cross.

A total of 111 schools and classes in various parts of the country, were given honors.

The tournament was one of the features of the Modern Health Crusader movement and will be repeated during the present school year. Hundreds of Illinois schools numbering more than a quarter of a million pupils, have taken up the Crusader plan but few of them entered the national tournament last year owing to the congestion of school work resulting from the recent epidemic of influenza.

Being made a winner means that each class scored 100 per cent enrollment of its pupils as "Knights Banneret" within the fifteen week period from February 9 to May 24. In order to get the 100 per cent, every pupil in the class or school was required to do at least 75 per cent of the "health chores" of the Modern Crusade each week during the tournament.

The list of Jacksonville schools that won pennants as given out by the national office is as follows:

Josephine Milligan school, Laura M. Hammond, teacher.

Grade 1, Morton school, Lillian Sheehan, teacher.

Grade 2, Franklin school, Zella May Scott, teacher.

Grade 1, Franklin school, Mary M. Clampit, teacher.

Grade 4, Washington school, Esther B. Laurie, teacher.

Grade 5, Franklin school, Lillian Carter, teacher.

Grade 6, Franklin school, Mary L. Maher, teacher.

Assembly Time.

All grade schools open at 9 o'clock Monday morning. Children will assemble, be given their room assignments and furnished with a printed book list properly checked showing just what books and supplies will be needed. Parents will assist materially if they will take this book list, cross off the supplies that the child already has on hand, and take the remaining list to the book dealer so that the child may have his tools to work with Tuesday morning.

The David Prince Junior high school will assemble at 7:45 Monday morning and the high school at 12:30.

Age of Beginners.

The rule governing the age of beginners is as follows:

"New classes in the lowest grade of the primary department shall be formed at the beginning of each semester of the school year. No pupil beginning the work of the first year shal enter school during either term later than one month after its beginning, but any pupil becoming six years of age before Thanksgiving may enter at the opening of the fall semester, and any pupil becoming six years of age before March 1st may enter at the beginning of the second semester."

Where Attend.

All pupils should attend the school in the district where they reside. For adequate reasons the superintendent may grant a permit to attend another school so long as there is room. It is very evident that very few transfers can be granted without disarranging the whole school system. Children of the first grade living close to the Independence school should attend that school. Children in the vicinity of the Morton school who are in the first five grades should attend the Morton school.

Attendance Law.

The law for the attendance of school in the state of Illinois requires that all pupils of school age shal be in school during the entire time that school is in session thruout the school year. It is important that parents observe this rule as the school is built on the basis of procedure from day to day and week to week thruout the year. Children who are absent are handicapped from every possible standpoint. It should be emphasized that a proper organization of the schools at the beginning of the school year necessitates an enrollment of practically every child during the first day or two. Parents are requested to start their children on the first day if possible.

Community Co-Operation.

The community co-operation is appreciated by all those who are officially responsible for the conduct of the school system. It will readily be seen that it is only thru a whole-hearted co-operation that the best returns can be had from the schools. The policy of the present administration is to conduct the schools for the welfare of the children and seeks the cooperation and the assistance of every parent in doing just as good a piece of work as conditions will permit.

TO THE VOTERS OF MORGAN COUNTY

Delegates to the constitutional convention in this state are to be selected by party nominations (according to the present constitution), at a primary to be held at the usual voting places on next Wednesday, September 10th.

It is of supreme importance to the future of this state that the convention shall be composed of able men of the very highest character. Only two delegates will be chosen from each senatorial district, and each of the principal parties will nominate two candidates. The election will occur in November.

Nomination papers have been filed on behalf of three Republicans and two Democrats. Hence there is no contest between Democrats. On account of the importance of the situation we (Republican lawyers) take the liberty of giving you such information as we have in regard to the Republican candidates. They are all residents of Sangamon county. Mr. James H. Paddock, whose name will be first on the primary ballot, has for a number of years been clerk of the state senate, and is a gentleman of good standing in his community.

Hon. Clinton L. Conkling is one of the leading lawyers of central Illinois, is a man of mature years, high character, and will make a valuable member of the convention if chosen. He was at one time a trustee of Illinois college and is well known by our older citizens.

Hon. Logan Hay is a first class lawyer who has made special study of the history and constitutions of our state. For eight years he served this district (composed of Sangamon and Morgan counties) as a member of the state senate, and always gave close attention to the interests of this county and of the state institutions located here.

While in the senate he was a member of the economy and efficiency committee which investigated all departments of the state government. The very able report of that committee has been the basis for most of the recent important reforms in the administration of the state.

For about ten years he was a trustee of Illinois college and gave freely of his time and money in support of that institution—one of the most important in the county.

Very few men in the state are as well qualified as Mr. Hay and Mr. Conkling to serve in a constitutional convention, and their selection as delegates would reflect credit upon this district.

Every Republican should go to the polls on September 10th and cast his vote for the candidate or candidates of his choice. Let us show that the voters of Morgan county attend to their important duties as citizens.

DIVORCE SUIT FILED.

J. O. Priest, attorney for Mrs. Lilene Center, has brought divorce proceedings against her husband, H. Center. The two were married in November, 1912, and desertion is the charge made.

ILLINOIS WOMAN'S COLLEGE NOTES

All indications are that the largest attendance in the history of the college will be enrolled this year. Already over 100 freshmen have sent in their credits, and a number more are expected within a few days.

President Harker is in Chicago making arrangements for additional teachers to take care of the added work of the entering class.

Mr. Pearson, director of the College of Music, is very busy with his plans for the coming school year. He has had a most successful record in his work so far, and brings to the college enthusiasm and unusual ability for the opportunities he finds here in Jacksonville. He has accepted the position of director of music and organist at Grace M. E. church, and begins his duties Sunday, Sept. 7th. He will give an organ recital the early part of October. This will be followed by other recitals by the various members of the faculty.

Miss Olive Austin, the dean, is no stranger to the people of Jacksonville, having been in the college some years ago. Since leaving Jacksonville, she has been at Pomona college as dean, and at Hacketstown, N. J. Miss Austin will be glad to confer with any high school graduates in regard to their work.

Thru the generosity of friends, new silverware and china have been provided for the dining room. This, with the installation of new lights and the redecoration of the walls, makes this room most attractive in every way. Painters have been at work at the college for over two months, busily engaged in getting the various corridors and rooms ready for occupancy. The buildings have never before been so attractive in appearance as at the opening of this school year.

One item of interest in the registration is the enrollment of thirty young women from the state of Indiana. Pontiac will send four students, Springfield, six; Clinton, three, while the surrounding territory is well represented.

Mrs. J. J. Wells of Pleasant Hill, Ill., has moved to Jacksonville in order to study voice with Mrs. Hartman the coming school year. Mrs. Wells has two children whom she has placed in the public schools. Her husband, Dr. Wells, expects to spend the winter in Mississippi.

A man desiring to beat the high cost of living can do so by consulting the odd hats shown by FRANK BYRNS' Hat Store. In this lot are many extra good values at pre-war prices.

STUDENTS SEEK WORK

A DOUBLE SURPRISE.

A few days since Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Mains motored down from Chicago to take by surprise Mrs. Main's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. MORGAN COUNTY FARM TOPICS

A great deal of stubble plowing is in progress in Morgan county altho the ground is hard and cloddy. A good rain would help and the land would turn over in a much better condition. Farmers who are plowing land for wheat are finding that they must work the land very soon after plowing if they expect to crush the clods and get the fields into good condition for sowing.

It is probable wheat sowing will be late this year because of the appearance of chinch bugs in many different parts of the county. Ordinarily it is said that there are more chinch bugs in the south part of the county than in the north, but this season the reports are that there are bugs in many localities. So far they are not in such numbers to constitute a particularly dangerous menace—that is if farmers defer planting.

Experience has proven that if wheat is planted early and attains a heavy growth before frost comes that it proves a splendid place for the nesting of chinch bugs. As a result the department of agriculture has carried on a campaign for the purpose of bringing these facts to the attention of farmers and for the encouragement of late planting.

Everything points to a heavy corn crop thruout the county this year, nothwithstanding the fact that a month or two ago prospects were not considered as up to normal. A great many of the farmers of the county now plant two or three grains a hill where they used to plant three or four grains. The result has been less stalks of corn in a hill but more ears and large ones. Take a look at the average corn field in the county these days and you will soon discover than even if there are no more ears, that they are heavier and when gathering time comes will weigh out a crop above normal size.

Look Out for the Hessian Fly

Observations on the Hessian Fly thruout the season of 1919, together with a survey of field conditions just completed in the principal wheat growing counties of southern, central and northern Illinois, show there has been a considerable increase in the numbers of this insect this season in central and southern Illinois. A number of field collections from which rearings have been made show that the insects which parasitized the fly are less numerous in the central and southern parts of the state than for several years past.

All information we have would indicate that the Hessian fly will be much more abundant in central and southern Illinois than for the past three years. In the northern part of the State conditions will be about the same as in 1918-1919.

The fly free date of seeding should be observed as closely as possible, especially in the south three fourth of the state.

Very truly yours,
W. P. Flint.

MANY PHONE CALLS FRIDAY

Operators on the Literberry Bell telephone exchange were exceedingly busy Friday. Just what the reason for the increased number of calls made Friday is not known. It happened that the day was a "count day" at the exchange so that the exact number of calls made during the 24 hours is known. As a usual thing the number of calls runs about 800 but Friday the calls totalled 1,064. Miss Lula Henderson, who is an operator on the exchange, states that this is the greatest number of calls put thru the exchange in the eight years in which she has been on the board.

THOROBREDS READY FOR HIGHEST BIDDERS

R. S. McKinney Announces First Annual Sale at Oak Crest—An Event of Great Interest in Livestock World.

Persons who know anything about livestock will find the page announcement of R. S. McKinney on page 16 of this issue of great interest. Mr. McKinney has made extensive preparations for his first annual sale, and it will be attended by men interested in animal husbandry from many states. The sale is to be held Thursday, Sept. 25, at Oak Crest farm, east of Chapin. Thorobred Poland China hogs, Shorthorn cattle and Shropshire sheep are to be sold.

It should be mentioned that in this great sale of Poland Chinas Mr. McKinney is offering 50 picked out of 200 thorobreds. They are all of the big type Poland Chinas and are immune.

Expects Big Crowd

Mr. McKinley has spent some years in building up his herds to their present state of development and in addition to the years has not spared money. That he is now widely known as a breeder is evidenced by the fact that some of the most prominent men in the industry have declared their intention of being present. He has had favorable notices in the most prominent livestock publications and it is confidently expected that at least 1,000 people will attend this sale.

The reputable livestock papers will not accept advertisements of livestock sales until they have first hand information about the stock offered. A prominent livestock paper in Chicago sent two representatives to Oak Crest farm recently and the subsequent announcement that they made in the paper they represented was in part as follows:

"When R. S. McKinney started breeding big type Poland China hogs he bought a Grand Champion for foundation stock. 'Big Western,' the Kansas free state fair champion boar has become a great sire. He comes of a litter of 12 in number and 31 sows he has been mated with have farrowed litters averaging over nine pige.

"He has sired some wonderful pigs and some of the best in this offering include an outstanding gilt of a New London dam of Peter Mowns' breeding; Hedgegrove Lola, the 1918 grand champion; son of the international champion, has 9 pigs, 6 boars, 3 gilts in the sale by the 1917 international grand champion King Prospect.

Good Prospects.

"Miss Cinderella and Big Surrender, a great herd sire prospect will prove very attractive, and an outstanding boar and gilt out of a litter of nine by Disturber Champion at the national swine show and out of a Yankee dam. There are also some outstanding boars and gilts by Big Porter 2nd.

"There are so many good prospects in the Oak Crest offering that to enumerate them all would require too much space. Here is an opportunity to secure foundation stock of superior breeding and quality of real championship calibre. Champions and grand champions were purchased regardless of cost to found the Oak Crest herd and to make this initiatory sale the very best boars and gilts from each litter have been catalogued.

"The highest priced female Shorthorns last year at the Illinois Shorthorn Breeders Association meeting at Galesburg were purchased by Mr. McKinney. Some of the highest prices paid at the association sale were for animals bred at Oak Crest farm.

"The sheep for the foundation herd were selected for Mr. McKinney by Prof. Hannon of Ames, Iowa, and he looked all thru Iowa and Wisconsin before making his selections."

ILLINOIS COLLEGE READY FOR OPENING

Many Improvements Made at School During Summer Vacation—Addition Built to Club House—Whipple Building Will be Used as Museum.

Extensive repairs and improvements have been made on the Illinois college campus this summer. An addition has been built to the club house in order to provide a new kitchen and additional storage facilities. The kitchen will be on a level with the old dining room and will be provided with modern equipment. A furnace is being placed in the old building and other improvements made.

The abandonment of the first three years of the preparatory department has released the large Whipple study hall for other purposes and this room is now being transformed into a museum. The handsome black walnut cases formerly at Academy hall have been placed in this museum and other additional cabinets constructed.

The valuable and interesting collection known as the "Capinet" which was collected during the early years by the alumnae of the Academy and their friends will in due time be transferred to the new museum in the Whipple building. Many additional specimens will be placed in this museum. The room and its collections promise to be one of the most interesting features of the college.

For several years, with the exception of the S. A. T.C. regime, the college has made little use of the rooms on the north side of Crampton hall. The demand for dormitory rooms, however, is so large this year that all of the rooms of Crampton will probably be occupied. Decorators are busy getting the north rooms into shape.

Doctor and Mrs. Ryo F. Swift, recently moved into the Allcott home on West College avenue. Dr. Swift is the new assistant dean of the college.

Among students who have been in town during recent days completing final arrangements for their entrance into college are the following: Howard Brown of Vermont, Howard Wilson of Versailles, Byron Beard of Arenzville, John Sommer of Perry, Harold Pennock of Griggsville, Charles Wright of McLeansboro, Leah Lutkehus of Arenzville, Blanche Tripp of Greenview, Floyd and Lois Burrell of Palmyra and Gladys Newenham of Mt. Sterling.

Attention is again called to the fact that families who employ student labor during the coming year should communicate with the college office. The young men are now ready to take care of furnaces, mow lawns, clean house and perform other chores.

Registration days this fall occur on Monday and Tuesday, Sept. 15 and 16. The first chapel exercises being held on the morning of Wednesday, the 17th.

Director Kritch of the Conservatory has returned from his extensive auto trip and will be glad to confer with any students who may wish to get information regarding instruction in music.

U. S. MUST TAKE CARE OF HOMELAND

Congressman Yates Made Interesting Address at Home Coming Celebration in East Peoria.

Congressman Richard Yates addressed the returned service men and residents of Fondulac and Groveland township yesterday afternoon at the home-coming celebration held at East Peoria.

Congressman Yates declared that America must take care of herself, as kings and emperors are not lying awake nights wishing for the further success of the American republic.

"There are too many republics in the world now to suit the kings and emperors of other nations of the Universe," Mr. Yates said. Mr. Yates said that the time was divinely appointed when America should enter the war. "We were not prepared to enter in 1914," said Congressman Yates, "but if we had not got there when we did there would have been a different story to tell. There would have been a parade down Fifth avenue—a parade of German triumph. But our boys saved that and we have as a reward the womanhood of America in its present stage."

Mr. Yates also gave a lucid account of his trip to Europe as a member of the congressional committee from April 3 until May 5. —Peoria Journal.

WOMAN'S RECOVERY WAS A SURPRISE

Mrs. Pettit Had No Idea Any Medicine Could Help Her as Tanlac Did—Was Sick Thirty Years.

"Tanlac is the best medicine I have ever seen, and I have tried many different kinds since my health failed thirty years ago," said Mrs. Mary Pettit, who lives at 911 Ave. B, Galesburg, Ill.

"I can truthfully say," she continued, "that during all those years I was not able to sit down and eat a hearty meal without suffering afterwards. What I ate would sour on my stomach, and cause gas to form so bad that I would be in perfect misery for hours at a time. Sometimes this gas was so bad that it would almost cut my breath off. In addition to this, I had rheumatism in my arms and legs, and sometimes the pains were so severe that I just thought I couldn't stand it another minute. I was badly constipated all the time, too, and had to take a laxative every day. Of course, I was under treatment, and was taking medicines all the time, but instead of getting better, I just gradually grew worse.

"One day my daughter brought in a bottle of Tanlac, and told me she had read and heard so much about it that she just felt like it would help me. I had no idea that Tanlac would do me any good, in fact, I was so discouraged over my condition that I didn't believe there was a medicine on earth that would ever overcome my troubles. Any way, I commenced taking Tanlac, and to my great surprise, I commenced to feel better in a very short time. Why, before I had finished that first battle, I would actually be hungry when I woke up in the morning, and would eat a hearty breakfast. I just kept on taking Tanlac, and now my troubles are all gone, and I haven't felt so well for many years. My appetite is fine, and I eat three big meals every day and never suffer a particle afterwards. The rheumatism is gone, too, and I never have an ache or pain of any kind now. My entire system has been greatly built up, and I am so happy over my wonderful improvement that I tell everybody I meet that Tanlac is responsible for it."

Tanlac is sold in Jacksonville by Coover & Shrere; in Meredosia by R. B. Field; in Murrayville by M. E. Gilbert; in Waverly by J. W. Wylie Drug Co., and in Woodstock by the Hay Phermacy.

PASSAVANT HOSPITAL CAMPAIGN

The Good Work to be Begun in Earnest and at Once.

The good work of raising $25,000 for Passavant hospital is now well under way and the people of the city and adjacent territory will have the privilege of taking a part in this meritorious work.

Each person in the whole territory should be seen for it is an enterprise that appeals to everybody.

Already a beginning has been made in naming workers. Mrs Danskin, captain of District XX having selected the following list:

Mrs. Keith Montgomery, Mrs. Alfred Larson, Mrs. C. A. Barnes, Mrs. Felix E. Farrell, Mrs. James Alkire, Miss Hazel Strawn, Mrs. J. H. Clements, Mrs. Charles E. Scott, Mrs. M. J. Donahue, Mrs. William Floreth, Mrs. C. A. Johnson, Rev. W .H. Marbach, George M. Blair, Mrs. Ed Wackerle.

MATHIS, KAMM & SHIBE SAY:

If all Morgan County should stop buying shoes forever, it would probably not lower prices in the least—shoes are scarce and hard to get.

WOMAN'S MISSIONARY CONVENTION

The Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary society of the Wartbury Synod of the United Lutheran church will hold its third annual convention at St. Peter's Lutheran church near Arenzville, Rev. Brun Garten, pastor, on Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 10th and 11th. Sessions will be held Wednesday afternoon and all day Thursday. Evening services at 8 o'clock each evening. Wednesday evening sermon by Rev. F. W. Schneider of Belmont, Wis. Thursday evening address by Miss Anna Sanford, missionary from India. Everybody is invited to attend. The following are the synodical officers: President, Mrs. Anna R. Fogel, Burlington, Ia.; secretary, Mrs. Helen Meyer, Meredosia; treasurer, Miss Irene Musch, Arenzville. Miss Alma Niestradt will make the address of welcome. Miss Selma Lovekamp will read a paper on "Life Membership."

I am feeling better than I have felt for two years. My friends and neighbors are so surprised at my great improvement and in such a short time. I cannot thank Dr. C. W. Carson, the Chicago Specialist, enough for what he has done for me and I do not regret a cent that I have paid him for treatment. I will gladly tell anyone who is suffering as I was about him. Will answer any inquiries.

MAVERICKS

President Wilson says he wants to take the people into his confidence.

If handling out a fine line of high sounding phrases is taking the people into his confidence then the President stands ace high in the confidence game.

* * *

But, maybe, he is only working a confidence game like he worked in 1916 when he kept us out of war.

* * *

Perhaps the United States can stand alone against the world. However, if one is to judge from the money we are loaning European countries, they would have some difficulty standing if it were not for the help of the United States.

* * *

Now that the canning season is over, housewives are promised a plentiful supply of sugar.

If we had our way we would take those Socialists who cheered the soviet government of Russia in Chicago the other day and ship every one of them over to that country. There is no room for such people in this country and we believe in giving every man what he wants.

* * *

It is to be hoped that President Wilson does not get close to the Mexican border. Those Mexican bandits might kidnap him and hold him for ransom.

* * *

Why not let the railroad men buy the railroads. They should have nearly enough money saved up by this time to pay for them in cash.

* * *

There is nothing like being rich. When J. Ogden Armour gave out to the world that he was economizing because of the high price of clothing, a lot of people started to send him various articles of wearing apparel. If some poor man who really is unable to buy clothing at the present high prices had made the same statement nobody would have paid any attention to it, much less send him clothing.

If one is to judge from the number of automobile drivers who run about the streets with the muffler cut out, none of them care anything about paying a paltry little fine of $100.

* * *

Perhaps Manager Smith will accommodate the Virden Natioanls with a game and we believe they also can get a little side bet if they want it.

* * *

The league of nations President Wilson says will make future wars impossible.

In the meantime a miniature war has been in progress along the Mexican border for the last eight years.

* * *

But we are too old to fight. We have no hogs or corn to sell on a falling market and no automobile for thieves to steal.

* * *

We should worry.

REASONING FROM EXPERIENCE

Editor Journal:—

Like a cool breeze in a murky fog, comes the championship of the League of Nations by General Charles G Dawes

General Dawes was Comptroller of the Currency under President McKinley He was trusted Counseller and confidante of that most beloved of our Presidents in the trying period resulting from the Spanish-American war

McKinley did not shirk the responsibilities growing out of war, even tho they were not foreseen when the war began And peoples on the other side of the globe, liberated from Spanish tryrany as the result of war, were taken under the protection of the United States In the last twenty years, they have made more progress than in four centuries of Spanish rule They have "paid for their keep,' and today, they rise up to bless the great magnanimous United States of America

The spirit of McKinley seems to speak thru Charles G Dawes today Here is what he says:

"As a people who would not evade or shirk the responsibilities which our own sovreign decision to enter the war has brought upon us, we should lift our eyes and efforts from the smaller aspects of our situation, and ratify in its entirety this great treaty of peace, in which thirty nations have at last composed their differences after the most terrible war of all times"

General Dawes shows how this may be done without yielding our right of independent action During the last year of the war, he was Chief of the Supply Department of the American Expeditionary Forces in France After three years of heart-breaking effort to win the war, the Allies discovered that the chief drawback was lack of unity in command This was finally remedied by recognizing Marshall Foch in supreme command of the battle front, the Channel ports, to the Adriatic Sea Even then there was confusion in furnishing munitions and supplies from the rear, for Marshall Foch had no control of supplies, except as to the French Army

General Dawes was directed by General Pershing to aid in securing co-ordination of supplies A board was created for this purpose Now let Dawes speak in his own language: "What happened in creating this board, is exacting what is happening in the effort to creat a League of Nations

"(a) The proposition for cession of the independent sovereignties of the armies, and the governments, fortified tho it was by a tremendous military necessity, was rejected, as has been the case with the League of Nations

"(b) But because of the necessity of finding some remedy for the deplorable lack of co-ordination of inter-army action, in the rear, without interfering from first to last with the independent sovereign power of each army over its rear, the board was established to control them, which like the League of Nations, could do nothing effective without unanimous consent

"My experience in France enables me to testify to the invaluable and mutually beneficial coordination of independent military and civil authority under this board"

Dawes was there as the American representative in that board. He knows from experience, that the principle of unanimous consent, will work in the League of Nations. Under unanimous consent, the larger nations will not be controlled by the smaller and more numerous nations. Nor will the smaller nations be dominated by the larger nations. All will be free and independent.

But the League of Nations forms a clearing house for the exchange of views, and the adoption of plans by the consent al all—for the promotion of peace.

Without the League, dark conspiracies can be and will be formed, as they have been in the past, with no one on guard.

With the League, those conspiracies can be "nipped in the bud," war can be prevented, and it is better to spend dollars to prevent war, than to spend millions of dollars, and millions of lives to win war.

ESSEX Motor Cars

This Will Help You

10,000 Owners Speak for It's Performance and Reliability

Decide for an Essex

What owners say of a car is a pretty good indication of its worth.

And when you add to that, the enthusiastic endorsements of thousands of motor wise individuals the proof should be conclusive.

But the Essex has still another way of showing its value.

You Can Test it Yourself

Performance limitations have naturally grouped cars into classes. Certain cars may be depended upon for unlimited service. They know no frontiers of distance. They are dependable and require practically no attention.

But such cars are large and costly, costly to buy and to operate.

An exception is the Essex. Its performance qualities can be demonstrated at any time.

Take a ride with us to see how it can be driven just as easily, as fast and with as much certainty of endurance as any high-powered car with which you are to compare it.

Moderate Cost Due to Smaller Size

If the Essex were as large as the cars whose performance it matches, the price would have to be as high.

But because it has no useless length or useless weight, costly car quality in every detail is possible with proportionate saving in cost.

It is because of these qualities that the Essex is praised as it is.

And by skill in design, and care in construction, the performance is just as satisfactory.

Its Worth is Shown in Service Not Price

The strongest Essex boosters are those who have driven their cars the hardest.

It is so easy to handle—so lively and so comfortable that there is pleasure rather than work in driving it.

You may be undecided between the Essex and some other car of similar weight and price.

The two cars look bright and attractive on the sales floor.

The demonstration will give the Essex an advantage that everyone is glad to describe.

Then the thing for you to decide is how those two cars will compare after several months of service.

For answer, note the Essex cars in your neighborhood.

Take a ride in one whose speedometer registers long service.

Look out for performance. See if it still has the power to do the things it did when new. Is it quiet and rigid and in good condition?

Every Essex makes new friends.

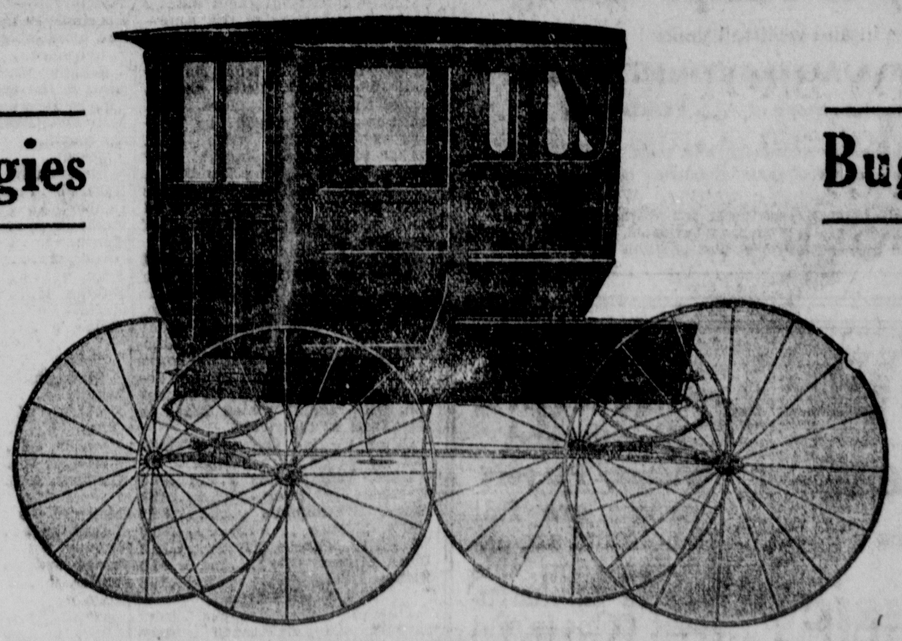

It is what they are saying that is increasing the demand so much. You should speak for your car without delay.

TY COBB CONTINUES TO SET PACE FOR BATTING HONORS

Detroit Star's Average for 104 Games .371, 21 Points Ahead of Closest Rival—Close Race in National League for Honors.

Chicago, Sept. 6.—As the clubs of the American league swing into the final month of the pennant race, Ty Cobb is driving for the batting championship, which, with the exception of two seasons, has been in his possession for twelve years.

Unofficial averages released today show the celebrated Georgian hitting .371—twenty-one points ahead of Oscar Veach, his teammate, and closest batting rival. In 104 games, Cobb has whaled out 155 safe blows for a total of 210 bases. Thirty of Ty's hits went for two bases, while eleven were of the three bagger variety and one home run. The averages include games of Wednesday.

"Babe" Ruth, the averages show, is within one home run of tieing the world's four bagger record of twenty-five established by Buck Freeman. In addition to driving out twenty-four homers, Ruth tops the league in total base hitting. He has stretched 118 hits bagged in 111 games for a total of 240 bases. INDEES WILL AGAIN PLAY PEKIN TEAM

Last Try With Visitors Ended in Tie at 2 All—Claude Will Again Pitch for ecatur.

The Pekin Combinations come for a game with the Indees this afternoon. The last time the Tazwell county aggregation came here the game ended in a tie, the visitors having to quit to catch a train. This time Manager Smith will call the game so that there will be plenty of time to finish it unless it goes extra innings. The visitors will bring practically the same team with the exception of shortstop and outfielder.

Claude, the southpaw who pitched here earlier in the season for a Peoria team and again for the Commies, will again do the hurling for Pekin. Claude is one of the best lefthanders that has been seen here this season and he will work hard not only to break the tie but to atone for his defeat when he was here with Peoria.

Manager Smith will rely upon Padgett, tho White may do the mound work if he looks good. The game will be called promptly at 2:30 o'clock. The lineups:

Combinations—Clay, 3b; Balsinger, 2b; Lowman, lf; Callahan, c; Bennett, 1b; Dittmer, rf; Vedel, cf; Claude, p; White ss; Petri, utility.

Indees—Mahan, rf; Briggs, ss; Ruble, 2b; McManus, 3b; Shoof, cf; Christopher, c; Simms, 1b; Riggs, lf; Padgett, White, p.

TOM DOYLE TELLS OF LABOR DAY GAME

Well Known Ball Player Who Was One of Umpires in Virden-Indee Game Gives Reasons for His Decisions.

Tom Doyle, the well-known Murrayville baseball player in the communication which is appended tells his reasons for decisions in the game on Labor Day between the Independents and Virden.

The sporting editor of this paper never doubted the honesty of Mr. Doyle's decision in calling the plays as he saw them. However, Mr. Doyle told him on Wednesday after the game that he was mistaken in the decision at the home plate on McManus, but that he would not reverse the decision as had been made.

Speaking of the decision on Padgett. Only in the case of a runner asked for a player who expects to remain in the game is the consent of the captain of the opposing team necessary. When Seymour ran for Padgett the latter automatically retired from the game. If Mr. Doyle can show us a ruling to the contrary we will gladly acknowledge we are wrong.

Doyle's Communication.

In answer to the communication of Friday morning's Daily Journal, as to the eyesight of the Sporting Editors of the Jacksonville papers, namely, "Davis and Dooling," will say in regard to decision at first in ninth inning, do firmly believe they could not see the play, on account of crowd before them.

As to giving decisions, gave it at time of play made, and not outside of diamond, but as all eyes were watching Manager Smith, went by his decision, which in ninth inning he was umpiring all over the diamond.

Why did Manager Smith call play at third and first in ninth inning?

Answer—In order to win game.

In regard to play at home will say Catcher Richardson might of missed man, but player also missed plate, so therefore runner is out.

As Manager Smith seemed to be calling all decisions in ninth inning, why did he not call Padgett out for leaving base, for runner, without consent of visiting captain, after being touched with ball.

My decision on that was out: "but Smith and part of Jacksonville wanted to win."

As regards to my playing ball, a number of years, as a member of the Murrayville Ramblers playing nearly every town in Central Illinois, wish to state, that the most unfair umpiring was in the city of Jacksonville, and cannot understand, why such fair-minded gentlemen, as the above two editors, could uphold such umpiring.

Will call your attention to 4th of July game in regard to umpiring, if you do not believe the above.

Before closing, will say that the above decisions were absolutely the way I seen them in Labor Day's ball game between Virden and Jacksonville Indees.

(signed.) THOMAS DOYLE.

Asserts New Discovery Brings Blessed Relief to Rose and Hay Fever Sufferers
Can Make It Yourself At Home At Trifling Expense
In spite of all the doubters and scoffers, a man in Kentucky, who changed his annoying and distressing hay fever into less than a mild cold, claims most emphatically that if taken in time hay fever can be conquered or at least made so harmless that it is not even bothersome.
He gave his discovery to scores of other sufferers with the most remarkable results and has recently been prevailed upon to dispense it through pharmacists to all hay fever sufferers who still have faith that nature has provided an effective remedy for this common yet miserable disease.
And best of all this remedy costs almost nothing. Get a one ounce bottle of Mentholized Archie at any drug store, pour the contents into a pint bottle and fill the pint bottle with water that has been boiled.
Then gargle as directed and twice daily snuff or spray each nostril thoroughly.
That's all there is to it; so simple that a lot of people will say that it can't do the work but oftentimes simple natural remedies are the best as you will find after using.
If you will make up a pint and use it for a week or ten days you need not be surprised if your unwelcome yearly visitor fails to appear.

—There are already many satisfied users of THE EDEN in Jacksonville. There are many thousands throughout this state, and tens of thousands over the country.

Read again our unqualified statement at the beginning of this announcement

—Then consider your washing problems in that connection. The satisfaction to be gained instantly will present itself; so also will the saving.

—But the best part of all is that we will send one of these machines to your home, in charge of an experienced factory man who will do your entire washing and submit the machine to any test you desire, all without any obligation on your part.

—Call us, either phone 580, early tomorrow morning.

Below Are a Few "Reasons Why" of Eden Superiority

THE EDEN operates a twelve inch wringer.

THE EDEN IS EQUIPPED with an automatic disengaging clutch, which releases the motor in case the wringer becomes clogged or the cylinder overloaded, thereby preventing damage to motor.

AT THE BOTTOM OF THE EDEN is a space called the "Quiet Zone" where dirt from clothes is precipitated and held. All delays due to changing water for large washings is avoided. The dirty water simply is drained from the outlet, emptying the "Quiet Zone", and clean water necessary poured in at the top.

THE GLASS WATER GAUGE shows the proper amount of water to be put into the machine—there is nothing left to guess.

THE IMPROVED AUTOMATIC releasing device stops the cylinder always with the doors in the proper position.

THE HINGED CLINDER DOORS engage with the sides of the tub when open, preventing clothes from dropping down under the cylinder.

ALL PARTS ARE ENCLOSED. The motor is covered by a shield which protects it from splashing water and makes it impossible for a child to be harmed in any way if playing around the machine while it is in operation.

THE EDEN ZINC CLINDER contains 5400 holes, all punched from the inside out, giving perfect suction and absolute safety to the garments. A 200-pound man can stand in any EDEN cylinder without harming it in the least, due to its perfect construction.

THE DOUBLE-ROLLER CASTORS make it possible for a mere child to move the machine at will.

THE WASHER, WRINGER and reducing units are packed in heavy, standard grease, just as the diferential of an auto. How much more satisfactory this is than the average machine with seven or eight oiling places.

Methodist Conference Begins At Charleston September 17

Charleston has just entertained a 1,500 delegated session of Disciples of Christ, celebrating a centenary of organization. At Charleston, it is being said that life consists in one blessed thing after another. Beginning Sept. 17, only a week or so away, the Methodist will smile in on the Coles county capitalists, before the smile wears off, in bidding goodby and God-speed to the sister organization of the state.

Personal.

Bishop Nicholson, the president of the Chicago area, in which Illinois conference is a part, will preside. Much of the preliminary work of the conference has been outlined by accasional meetings of the district superintendents and frequent conferences of the bishop with his advisers, both within the area, and at Columbus, Ohio, during the missionary centenary in June and July.

Rev. E. G. Candmeyer, assistant secretary of the conference, is the pastor of the strong local church in Charleston and in addition to the ministerial delegation, will also act as host with the local committee of laity, to the 300 possible lay delegates, who hold their quadrennial session this year. Their big task will be the election of seven or eight lay delegates to the general conference which meets next May at Des Moines, Ia., also to vote on constitutional question of admitting laymen to the annual conference. Gradually the spirit of democracy is making progress in ecclesiastical organizations of Episcopal government, as well as in political organizations. It is freely predicted that, as presiding elders have given way to district superintendents, so bishops will be known as general superintendents, and their term of office will be limited to a period of eight years, subject to re-election, or relegation to the pastorate or some other important position in the church or educational field.

Program.

A tentative program has been published, and offers an interesting feast, intellectual and spiritual to the conference and visitors. Editor E. C. Wasing of the Western Christian Advocate of Cincinnati, O., will deliver a series of addresses at 4 o'clock each afternoon on various phases of the new program following the centenary of missionary effort and organization of the church on "Evangelism." Such a program contemplates a campaign for a million converts to Christ and His Kingdom. The outline plan contemplates a foreign field evangelistic service in the mass movement of India—as well as new forces at work in every field that will reach one hundred and fifty thousand people. Also in the Sunday school organization and homes of the families of the church as many more and a great unchurched mass as well as an associated constituency unenrolled of seven hundred thousand people. Doubts concerning the success of this campaign are like to the doubts concerning the drive for $105,000,000 for missionary advance. It "ought to be"—therefore it "can be" done—only go to it! is the cry.

Col. Raymond Robins will be present to deliver the annual lecture of the session, the receipts to help defray local expenses in conection with the conference. The timeliness of the theme, in conection with Russian Radicalism and the unrest of all the industrial classes, together with the standing of Col. Robins, assures the members and visitors of the conference of a crowded house. When Bishop McDowell was secretary of the board of education, and the conference was held in Charleston in 1898, he lectured before the conference on "Intellectual Friendship" and the receipts were $700, but the tickets were $1.00 each, a contribution to the liquidation of the debt of the church, then but newly built.

The educational banquet will be held Friday at 5 p. m. at the Presbyterian church parlors and a fine program has also been provided.

Big Things Coming.

The big things of the past year—the centenary drive—only prepares the church for still greater things to come. Evangelism, referred to is one—yet the "forgotten man" who made a centenary celebration one of profoupnd significance (the retired minister) is not longer to be forgotten. Dr. H. C. Gibbs, patiently, quietly at his post during the year of the great campaign for aggressive evangelism in home and foreign fields—will report from $40,000 to $50,000, gathered in for the conference claimants endowment fund. The older men, soon to go on the list of claimants, as well as those already retired, ought to remember Dr. H. C. Gibbs with a place on the delegation to general conference. Greater things in legislation are in store for the man at the end of the long trail, if such men as Gibbs and Van Cleve are at the council next year in Des Moines.

The Centenary.

On July 17 the Illinois conference had pledged on the centenary campaign (payments to be made in five annual installments) $2,991,951. Additions already known to have been made, pass the three million dollar mark. The district reports at the time of the above tabulation were as follows:

Champaign-Danville, $558,875, or 104 per cent of apportionment.
Decatur, $504,907, or 104 per cent of apportionment.
Bloomington, $483,589, or 103 per cent of apportionment.
Springfield, $450,000, or 96 per cent of apportionment.
Jacksonville, $351,000, or 81 per cent of apportionment.
Mattoon, $366,000 or 76 per cent of apportionment.
Quincy, $277,580, or 74 per cent of apportionment.

Out of this fund will come all the money usually solciited each year, for what is known as "missions" including all benevolences. It is inded not only a much advanced amount but also a much improved method of financing the various benevolent boards of the church.

Educational Institutions.

The unsettled problem of the Illinois Wesleyan university, as to its new site, will come up again for discussion and action. The attitude of the central Illinois conference (whose meeting is held the week before the Illinois) has created a deadlock, in the situation, and the renewal of option on land in Springfield for the removal of the university to that city, indicate faith in the action of the Illinois conference "assemble" at Decatur last Febuary. There is a renewal of the talk of uniting the two conferences or lifting the line between the two as a possible solution. There is a suggestion, that as the new site selected two miles northeast of Bloomington, known as the Whitmore tract, is within the territory of central Illinois conference, it might be well to surrender all right, title and bequests, to the central Illinois conference of the university. This, however, might still result in some other chartered institution coming to Springfield, if Illinois conference should abandon its interest and right in the Illinois Wesleyan at Bloomington and thus make a competitor with both Illinois Woman's college as well as the Illinois Wesleyan at Bloomington.

Appointments.

As usual the restlessness—due to the high cost of living, and the law salaries—on the part of the preachers, and the increased salaries on account of better adjustment in pulpit supply has rumored many changes. Rev. M. G. Coleman of Shelbyville, has accepted the field agency of the Danville Protestant hospital, and will leave that church open for a new pastor this fall. Rev. A. S. Flanigan completes his sixth term as superintendent of the Quincy district and many are the surmises as to his destination, and his successor.

Rev. T. F. Hartman of Williamsville, has bought a residence in Memphis, Tenn., and will take a year off from active itinerancy. There are returning to their conference relations many who served as chaplains, Y. M. C. A. secretaries and Red Cross workers. Still there is a shortage in ministerial supply of about 40 charges. These are usually supplied by local preachers who follow in the regular path of the regular conference member.

What Is Talked.

An exchange between Dr. Madden and Dr. Flanigan, has most frequently been suggested. Another group of would-be cabinet men have talked a "chain of circumstances" like this: A. K. Byrns of Quincy district; F. A. McCarty to First Church Bloomington; H. W. McPherson to Vermonstreet Quincy; F. B. Madden to Paris, and A. S. Flannigan to Grace church, Jacksonville.

The Grace church, Decatur, has had a committee to spy out Moaleaqua with a view of capturing E. V. Young as their pastor. Rev. W. L. Rigg, having announced his intention of asking for a release. A "Methodist call" from Cerro Gordo, for the young pastor of Marou, Rev. Ernest Campbell, is also rumored.

Rev. Geo. V. Metzel of Sullivan goes to the assistance of Rev. J. C. Baker at Trinity church, Urbana. A Springfield church is setting a trip (with proper bait) for J. S. Tull of Lincoln. Some have even suggested in view of the stir among the big places, this year, that the scholarly superintendent of the Bloomington district, who has but one more year to serve, might be persuaded to return to the pastorate. Rev. A. A. White will retire to Bloomington this conference, on account of his wife's health. Kimber church Danville will be merged with First church.

Members Who Have Died.

Death has been very active this year. The following ten preachers have died: Thomas M. Greer, H. R. Kasiski, A. M. Daneley, W. W. Drake, G. W. Dungman, Henry Wilson, J. B. Wade, John B. Martin and Joseph B. Martin, U. M. Creath and also C. W. Haney who for many years was an active itinerant in the probationers class—but retired a year ago.

The following preacher's wives, or widows, have died: Mrs. Ernest Campbell, Mrs. J. W. Crane, Mrs. H. C. Munch, Mrs. George B. Wolfe, Mrs. W. M. Gooding and Mrs. Jos. Winterbottom.

A memorial service will be held the first session of the conference

THE JOY OF MOTHERHOOD

Mrs. Phillips Sends an Encouraging Letter to Expectant Mothers.

West Philadelphia, Pa.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for five months before my baby was born and it has made me much better in health. I was always very ill when my other children were born, but with this one I had a much easier time. He is a big healthy boy now, three years old, and I believe it was Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that made me so well. It is certainly a good medicine for every woman. I cannot say too much in its favor, and you may publish my testimonial."—Mrs. W. Phillips, 5430 Kingsessing Avenue, West Philadelphia, Pa.

The reason that thousands of women from all parts of the country write such letters is that this famous old root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, has brought health and happiness into their lives, once burdened with pain and illness.

For special advice in regard to such ailments write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of its many years experience is at your service.

It is understood some new financing will be undertaken in connection with the transaction, in which the Chase Securities and Montgomery & Co. will participate.

When it was announced that the Willys corporation had been formed to manufacture a new six cylinder car it was stated that this was necessary as the Willys-Overland company could not undertake the manufacture because its own plants were being pressed to capacity. The distribution will be thru the Willys-Overland company, which has entered into a sales agreement with the new corporation.

The acquisition of the Duesenberg factories was unexpected. The Poughkeepsie factory formerly was the Fiat plant. It is intended to enlarge both plants. There has been some secrecy about the Willys corporation. It has been said that in addition to manufacturing automobiles it might also serve as a holding company for all the Willys interests.

CORN MARKET SHOWS UNSTABILITY

CHICAGO, Sept. 6.—Uncertainty as to the character of the government crop report to be issued Monday had a tendency today to make the corn market unstable. Fluctuations however, altho irregular and numerous were not wide. The close was nervous, varying from ½c net lower to 2½c advance with September $1.64 to $1.64¼ and December $1.31¾ to $1.31⅞; oats finished ⅜c to ⅝c higher and provisions at 22c decline to a rise of $1.75.

Notwithstanding that private reports have suggested but little change in the crop outlook during August, traders on both sides of the corn market were disposed to avoid any chance of a surprise in the government's new figure. The fact that sterling exchange today had fallen to a new low record exercised at times a noticeable contrasting influence.

Improved demand from eastern shippers gave firmness to oats.

Provisons averaged higher owing more or less to packers buying.

TRADING RESTRICTED BY LABOR CONDITIONS

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—Trading on the stock exchange obviously was restricted by the uncertainties resulting from labor conditions, especially in the steel industry. U. S. Steel was under intermittent pressure showing an extreme decline of almost two points. Allied shares were firm at the outset, but yielded 1 to 3 points latter with several of the more popular equipments, motors and rails.

Aside from Studebaker, the motor division was firm to strong with oils, but miscellaneous issues registered little change. Sales amounted to 375,000 shares.

The most interesting feature of the bank statement was the heavy expansion of actual loans, atributable both to the week's greater activity in the stock market and September 1st withdrawals. Trading in bonds was light but with a better tone especially in investment rails. Liberty issues and several of the internationals eased slightly. Total sales (par value) aggregated $5,350,000.

Announcement

To Fellow Breeders, Stockmen and Friends:

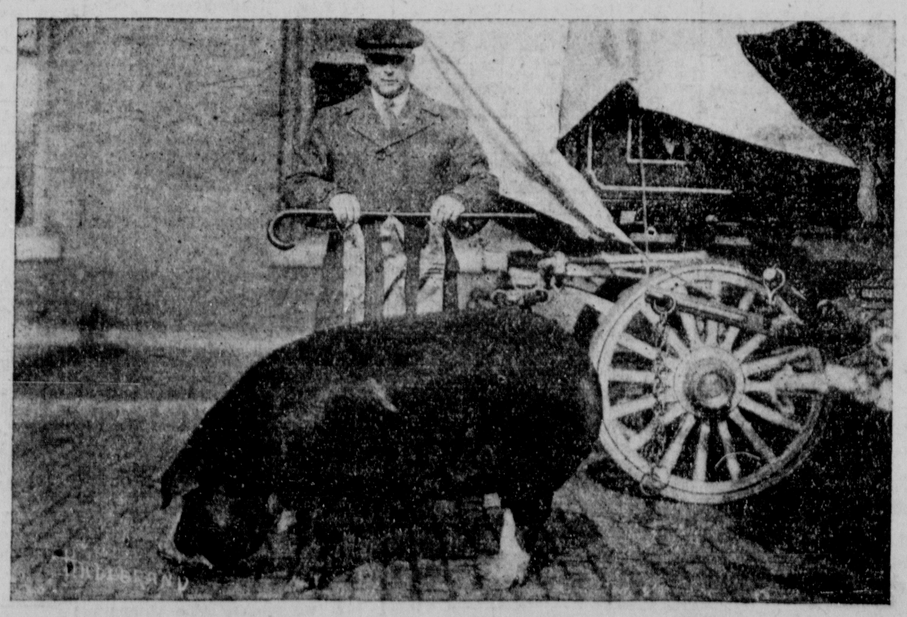

The breeding and handling of good livestock being my business, I am proud and feel honored to have the privilege of inviting all the lovers of these three breeds to my sale. I am selling a good useful lot of stock and you are going to have the opportunity of getting the cream of my selection and breeding for the past few years at your own price. When you investigate and examine the pedigrees and inspect the animals you will to a great extent approve my statement.

When I started in the hog business I began with one principle, that "like begets like," and tried to build my herd on that theory. In selecting and keeping my herd sows, they must be from large litters and be prolific. I have as prolific a herd as there is in the corn belt. I am perfectly willing to leave to you the matter in regard to bone, size, stretch and quality.

Hoping the consignment will meet your approval and trusting that I may meet you on the sale date, Sept. 25, I am

Gratefully yours,
R. S. McKINNEY.
